

GEN. VILLA ABOUT TO FORCE CRISIS IN THE REVOLUTION

Zacatecas, Mexico, June 29.—General Villa announced today that he would return to Torreon with his entire army and artillery with the exception of brigades pursuing the federals.

Though Villa denied to an International News correspondent this morning that a breach exists between himself and Carranza, it is believed by those who know him, that the return to Torreon indicates that relations between Villa and Carranza have reached the breaking point, and Villa will demand a definite settlement that will prevent further quibbling before he resumes his march on the capital. He has been hampered by Carranza's orders prohibiting the mining of coal to run military trains and by the refusal of Carranza to supply enough rolling stock.

If General Villa attempts to go to Saltillo to enforce his demands he will undoubtedly force a crisis in the revolution.

REV. C. F. CHECKZLI

TO LECTURE TO NEGROES

Rev. C. F. Checkzli, a native of Abyssinia and professor of theology in a university for blacks at Princeton, Ind., preached last night at the Cherry Street A. M. E. church to a large crowd and is to lecture tonight on "Who is the black man and where he is going in fifty years."

He states that Africa is to become a unified empire in a few years to be dominated by the combined armies of black, brown and yellow peoples. He also believes that the white man shall have to quit Africa when the American negroes are to return, believing that their coming to America was for a moral development to be finally returned to Africa. The African black man thanks the white man for his grateful acts of aiding their development but wishes them to depart when the psychological acts of theirs shall have taken possession in development. No two races can live on an equality, but they shall always continue to controvert the acts of each other. Demagogues shall have to become subjected to the act of progressivism.

He invites all whites to hear him at 8 o'clock tonight.

Rev. Lamar Jones, of Columbus, Ga., is in Dothan.

HOUSE CONSIDERS BILLS UNDER SUSPENDED RULES

Washington, June 29.—For the first time this session the House today considered bills under suspended rules. Owing to June having five Mondays and today belonging to no particular class of bills, suspension of rules was ordered.

Under suspensions any member who can get recognition can bring up any bill he wishes. Representative Underwood has served notice on members that a quorum must be present each day until the appropriation bills are passed.

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF INCOME TAX LAW UPHELD BY JUDGE

Detroit, June 29.—Constitutionality of the new income tax law was upheld by United States District Judge Tuttle today. John and Florence Lodge, manufacturers, sought to have the law declared invalid. The case will be appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

THIS ROOSTER IS A BIRD

Boston, Ga., June 29.—John H. Ansley of this place has the prize rooster of Georgia. About a month ago he showed a desire to get, so Mr. Ansley decided to let him have some eggs. The rooster succeeded in hatching out three chicks. Not being satisfied with this small number he stole some from a hen. Mr. Ansley took some more from another hen and the rooster is now escorting eighteen chickens around. He is very proud of his family.

Mrs. S. H. Hales of Ensley has returned home after a two weeks' visit to friends and relatives here and at Haleburg.

Mr. J. M. Sanders of Balkala, was here today.

J. B. Stanley of Haleburg, was in Dothan today.

VOTING LIGHT IN ELECTION

An election is being held in the Third Congressional District today to determine who will finish the term in the United States Congress made vacant by the appointment of Henry D. Clayton to a federal judgeship. The aspirants for the short term are W. O. Mulkey of Geneva, and J. J. Speight of Eufaula.

In the primary for the long term office in Congress, the race is a three-cornered affair, the candidates being H. B. Steagall, of Ozark, T. S. Frazer of Union Springs, and A. A. Evans of Clayton.

The voting throughout the district is reported to be light, compared to past elections, and it is impossible to determine who is leading in the race for the respective offices.

Outside of the interest shown by regular politicians, there is nothing of marked significance in the campaign, insofar as is known. The farmers are said to be at work in their fields, only a fairly good percent going to the polls to vote. At the voting places the election, of course, is the eternal theme, but elsewhere other questions are in the limelight. The boll weevil, the drought, the Fair this fall, women's suffrage, the chautauque, the boy scouts, the Young Men's Club and other lively themes of the hour, are not slighted in the course of conversation.

QUARANTINE AGAINST BUBONIC PLAGUE

Mobile, Ala., June 29.—Alabama and Mississippi are enforcing a strict quarantine against vessels from New Orleans on account of the threatened bubonic plague in that city. Vessels are not allowed to land and the coast is strongly guarded.

Messrs. H. L. Palmer and H. F. Floyd, of Midland City, were here today.

EXPLOSIONS IN TUNNEL INJURES TWENTY MEN

Milwaukee, June 29.—Twenty-two men hurt, ten probably fatally by an explosion one hundred and fifty feet under the surface of Lake Michigan in the new In-take Tunnel.

After desperate efforts the rescuers succeeded in clearing the debris and reaching a point where the explosion occurred. They found victims suffering from internal injuries and broken bones. They were rushed to hospitals where physicians say ten are in a critical condition.

The explosion was caused by compressed air in the tunnel.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Damon and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thomas went over to Abbeville yesterday afternoon regarding early this morning.

Dothan May Have Another Railroad

The Dothan Chamber of Commerce and the citizenry is interested in a proposed railroad with Bon-Ren Cave, near Panama City, Fla., as the Southern terminus, the line thence reaching north to Dothan and probably other points.

A well known citizen today received a letter from A. D. Campbell, a railroad man of Chipley, Fla., in which it was stated that something definite would probably be known in thirty or forty days. According to the letter Hartford or Shucomb was suggested as a northern point.

While plans for the proposed railroad are still in the making, and nothing positive is known as to whether the line will be built, the prospects are good, it is said.

TWO SLAVS HELD ON CHARGE OF ASSASSINATING ARCHDUKE

Making Headway At Fair Grounds

Work is progressing nicely at the fair grounds on the grading of the race track and the construction of one of the exhibition buildings, which is nearly completed. Roads, however, leading from Headland, Avenue to the grounds are not in the best of condition but will no doubt be improved soon. When this is done traveling will be much easier for automobiles and other vehicles.

By rushing matters to a conclusion, and keeping men steadily on the job at the fair grounds, it is thought that everything will be in readiness for the big show which opens October 26, and continues until October 31. By the time of the opening day, the fair will no doubt have been thoroughly advertised throughout this section of the State and in portions of Georgia and Florida.

TO WOMEN WHO OVERDO

Thousand of American women in our homes are daily sacrificing their lives to duty. In order to keep the home neat and attractive, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo. Soon a weakness or displacement is brought on and they suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse. For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved a boon and a blessing to women in this condition, by restoring their systems to a normal healthy condition. Why don't you try it?

EXECUTE IRREGULARS.

El Paso, Tex., June 29.—Two hundred and fifty "Colonados" or Federal irregulars, were captured and executed at Ballinas yesterday by General Benavides of Villa's army.

Sarajevo, Bosnia, June 29.—Distant and beautiful, two young slaves directly implicated in the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand, heir to the Austrian throne, and his beautiful wife, were subjected to an all-night grilling by the police.

Cabriniitch admitted that he threw the bomb, and added "It was a good slave bomb from Belgrade. More bombs in Belgrade, too."

Eighteen year old Princip, who fired the fatal shot, expressed no contrition, on the contrary he posed as a hero, declaring his name would go down in history. Princip admitted he had practiced with a revolver several weeks to insure accuracy. How well he succeeded is shown by the fact that he fired only two shots, one killing the Archduke, the other his wife.

War has been declared on assassins, and many are being arrested by government agents.

This city is under martial law today as a result of the assassination. The aged Emperor Francis Joseph expressed intense sympathy for the three orphaned children of the slain duke, but even in death, the government refused to recognize Ferdinand's morganatic wife, who was Duchess Hohenberg. The announcement of her death was made in an unofficial statement appended to the state announcement of the duke's death.

Archduke Charles Francis Joseph, twenty-six, now becomes heir to the Austrian throne. He is a model prince, with a name free from scandal. Ferdinand gained hatred of the slaves by activity in annexing Serbian provinces to Austria.

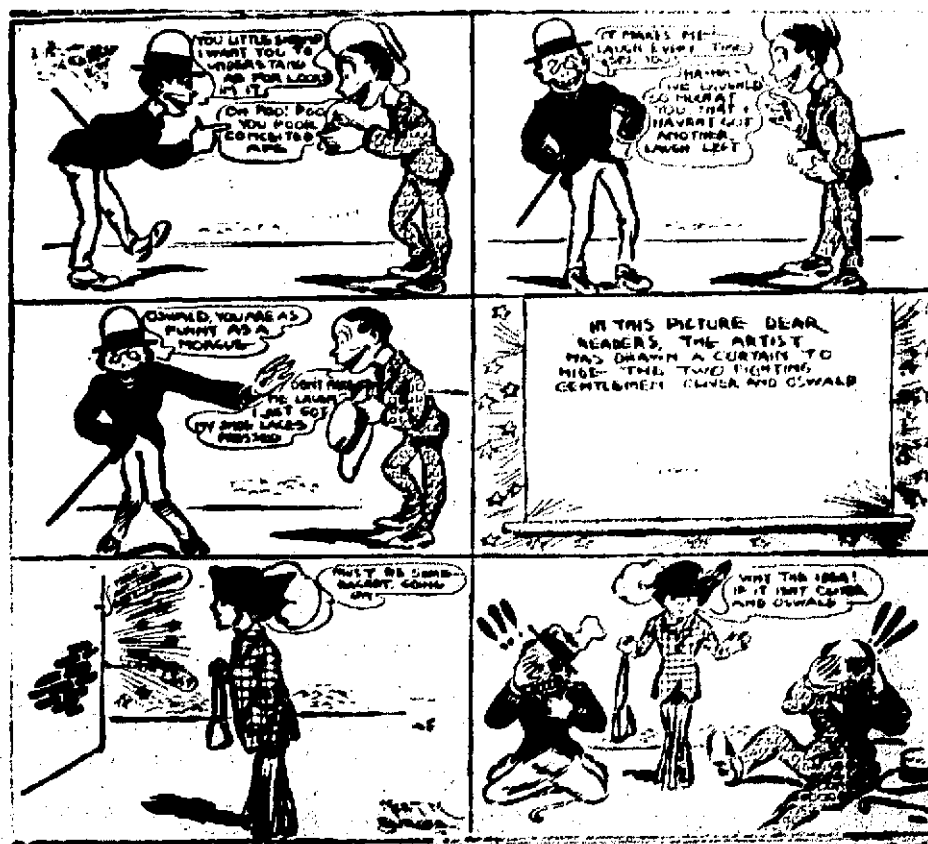

EXCURSION TRAIN WRECKED

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 29.—Two trainmen were killed, one perhaps fatally injured and many negroes hurt today when a negro excursion train on the Louisville and Nashville railroad was wrecked by spreading rails three miles south of Trenton, Ky.

LUKE McLUKE SAYS

From the Cincinnati Enquirer

One reason for the high cost of living is that a lot of folks try to make a rabbit's foot take the place of hard work.

The reason you think a girl is suffering from a broken heart is because her tight shoes are raising Cain with her corns.

This would be a fine world if a man could change his luck as easily as a woman can change her mind.

Rumors of war always excite a single man. But a married man doesn't pay much attention to them. He is used to war.

The reason some men are always hustling for jobs is because they never hustle to keep one.

Before marriage he thinks she is the dearest girl in the world. After marriage, when the bills come in, he knows she is.

A fellow never realizes what a big place the world is and how few people in it he knows until he gets arrested and starts to figure out some one to go on his bail.

If the styles get any worse a whole lot of the fashion publications will be barred from the mails.

As long as a woman doesn't lie about anything else but her age, her hair, and her weight, she has as good a chance as anybody of getting to heaven.

"AS A MAN THINKS, SO HE LIVES"

Pennsylvania Journal.

Thought, action, habit, character, destiny.

It is to James, of all metaphysicians perhaps the most quoted and most interesting, who gives the above sequence, as indicative of the bearing of thought on destiny. And, whether we be dreamers or workers, whether the most speculative in the realms of philosophy, or the most practical deliver in the marts of trade, if at all observant, one must acknowledge that thought does in great measure create destiny.

We are all creatures of habit. Some of us prefer to walk, for instance, on only one side of the street, we cross at certain corners, we have certain ways of administering our affairs, and in time these habits become so fixed, that we perform the actions more or less mechanically.

Industry, frugality, extravagance, recklessness, are often (than not) habits formed early in life and in later years become a part of one's self—one's character.

And character makes or mars life.

This is indisputable. The man or woman who, having built up character through the years, no matter what comes, what storms of life, what thunders of calumny, what lightning bolts of adversity, need have no fear for the destiny.

the house built upon the rock

And so philosophy brings us back to scripture

After all, what does rightness mean, but doing right? And what does doing right mean, but building character?

This is what men and women are put into the world to do. This is what to be, as one grows older, the only thing worth doing. To do the right thing.

First the thought, then the action, then the habit, then the character, then the destiny. It is a wonderful thing and an appalling thing when we realize the truth of this. Teach children to think. Give them good books to read. Good thoughts to carry with them. Teach them to use their minds.

How few of us really do use our minds. We meander through life like men and women half asleep most of the time.

To think, to act to do to be, these are wonderful thoughts that the philosopher gives us. If we think good thoughts, happy thoughts, clean thoughts, kind thoughts, then life should be worth living.

If we think mean thoughts, unhappy thoughts, base thoughts, malicious thoughts, then life will be miserable,—according to James who thought much on life, there and hereafter.

He may have been wrong, but his theories are worth thinking over—worth trying, at any rate.

SOME OLD TIME PRAGMATICS.

Toyoka (Kan) Capital

When I was a boy, said the old timer, "it was considered necessary that a boy get a licking at least once a month when he was at home and not less than once a week when at school. Teachers were hired more on account of beat and muscle they carried around than on account of what they knew. The teacher who built up a reputation for being able to lick any boy up to the age of 21 had a cinch on getting a job teaching in the winter. There were several young fellows who attended school every winter till they were 21, and it was the common thing to give the teacher a whirl just to see if he was man enough for the job. If he came out second best he had to give up the school, but if he cleaned out the bunch that generally settled it and he had no more trouble after that. Some of the young men were as big as the average sized teacher and sometimes bigger. Then they were used to outdoor work and were stout as young bulls. The teacher was up against a hard proposition, but he had one thing in his favor. If the big boys double teamed on him, that is, came on more than one at a time, he had the right under the code that governed such cases to use a club.

"One winter I went to a sort of graded school. There were three teachers including the superintendent. He didn't have to do much teaching. His principal business was to do the licking and I never saw a man who seemed to me to like his job better than he did his. He had the finest assortment of seasoned rods I ever saw and for especially aggravated cases he had a rawhide whip that was a holy terror. He stood about six feet two and weighed about 250 pounds and he wasn't fat at all. I think he could lift about half a ton and when he made the boy strip off his wammus and swung that whip he could make the stoutest heart howl. The other teachers were rather good hearted and didn't care to see the scholars beat up, but if they didn't send about so many up for lickings each week he complained that they were loafing on their jobs and didn't amount to anything as instructors.

saw the old teacher. He was about 70 years old and well preserved, but he had changed his mind about school discipline. He married a school man when he was about 50. They raised quite a family and he told me that if any teacher would beat one of his boys the way he used to beat up the boys when he was a teacher he would have the teacher prosecuted for assault and battery and if that didn't work he could go after him with a shot gun.

HORSES IN HOT WEATHER

The following suggestions for the treatment of working horses in hot weather have been published by the New York Women's League for Animals.

1. Load lightly and drive slowly.

2. Stop in the shade if possible. Water your horse as often as possible. So long as a horse is working water in moderate quantities will not hurt him. But let him drink only a few swallows if he is going to stand still.

3. When he comes in after work, sponge off the harness marks and sweat his eyes, his nose and mouth and the dock. Wash his feet but not his legs.

4. If the thermometer is 75 degrees or higher wipe him all over with a wet sponge. Use vinegar water if possible. Do not turn the horse on him.

5. Saturday night give a bath. Wash him and add a tablespoonful of salt water.

6. Do not use a horse hat unless it is a canopy top hat. The ordinary bell shaped hat does more harm than good.

7. A sponge on top of the head or even a cloth is good if kept wet. If dry it is worse than nothing.

8. If a horse is overcome by heat, get him into the shade, remove harness and bridle, wash out his mouth, sponge him all over, shower his legs and give him four ounces of aromatic spirits of ammonia, or two ounces of sweet spirits of nitre, in a pint of water, or give him a pint of coffee, warm. Cool his head at once, using cold water, or, if necessary, chopped ice wrapped in a cloth.

9. If the horse is off his feed try him with two quarts of oats mixed with bran, and a little water, add a little salt or sugar. Or give him oatmeal gruel or barley water to drink.

10. Watch your horse if he stops sweating suddenly or if he breathes short and quick or if his ears droop or if he stands with his legs braced sideways he is in danger of heat or sunstroke and needs attention at once.

11. If it is so hot that the horse sweats in the stable at night tie him outside. Unless he cools during the night he cannot well stand the next day's heat.

What is sleep? asks a contemporary. It is not these hot nights.

FIGHTING AT VERA CRUZ; A BATTLE WITH "SNIPERS."

Young Bluejackets Brave in the Face of Primitive Warfare.

Every American killed or wounded during the capture of Vera Cruz by United States troops was the victim of a Mexican sniper firing from a roof or the shelter of a house. There was no fighting in the open and the youthful bluejackets, whose average age is twenty-two, bravely faced the peril of being fired by hidden foes.

The story of this uneven fighting is vividly told by Dudley Harmon, special correspondent of the New York Sun, with Rear Admiral Bridger's fleet. He says:

Thirty percent of the men who went ashore had never fired a hostile bullet, but yet 100 percent of them were brave when through. They had been trained by their officers into the usages and practices of civilized warfare and their first experience was of sniping at Vera Cruz. The warfare known in the old Indian days of the United States, known also to the soldiers in the Philippines, but not to the sailors. Yet they cheerfully adapted themselves and followed their officers.

By American Press Association

Almost from the very start it has been a "sniper" battle. A sniper is a man who hides himself behind the parapet found on every Mexican roof or under a window in his house and tries to pick off the enemy one by one.

These snipers are not Mexican soldiers. They are citizens who are not willing to accept the fact that the city has been taken, but persist in trying to kill as many Americans as they can without any danger to themselves.

Many of those caught are supposedly respectable citizens of Vera Cruz, though for the most part they seem to be the scum of the city. One man who has an American wife and who has been the guest of the Americans in the harbor was caught on a roof of his house with a hot rifle in his hands. Another man apparently sitting in peace on his upper balcony was discovered to have under his legs as he sat a revolver, examination of which showed it had been used just previously. Whenever he thought opportunity offered he took a shot at the Americans passing through the street or standing guard at the corners.

The prisoners have been treated with the utmost consideration, even those who have been caught red handed in the act of peeping at the Americans from rooftops and windows.

Prisoners who have tried to escape from the police parties on the street have not been shot at, but pursued until caught.

The wounded among the prisoners have been given the same attention as has been given to the American wounded, though many a naval surgeon has confessed that his blood boiled when relieving the pain of a wounded sniper. Whatever the snipers had in their possession when caught they have been permitted to keep with the exception of rifles, revolvers, knives and ammunition. I saw one myself who had on him two watches, one gold and one silver who had been caught sniping and who had been grateful that his life had been spared. He kept repeating "America" accompanying the word with stinging movements across his throat.

Resolution About Raising Hogs; Get Ready For 1915

It has been known for many years that there is more money for the farmer in raising hogs and other live stock than in anything else he could produce, but the trouble has been a lack of a certain and market all the year round. An obstacle is now put. Part of the houses in nearby territory will be ready for business on September 1st and will place buyers in Dothan who will pay cash for hogs, sheep and goats. Anticipating the development of this industry in Houston county next year, realizing its vital importance at this time, we print the following resolution about raising hogs.

and other fattening crops come in. Fields where hogs are grazed or fattened should not be too large, as small fields permit frequent rotation and hogs may be changed from one to another allowing crops to rest and regrow their force. From five to ten acres is the most convenient for pastures. A pasture is not a woodland, branch creek or marsh but a field where something is growing that stock can eat. When hogs are not eating they are not making money. Since one raises hogs for fun or sentiment but in order to make money, it is therefore necessary to keep them eating from the time they are weaned until they reach the packing house. Keep them eating eat ing eating all the time they will. Pure water is as necessary for a hog's health as it is for a man's. He should have a clean bed and a dry shelter. A hog is the cleanest animal on the farm if you let him be. Since people eat him he ought to be. Give him a chance and he'll keep clean, keep healthy, get fat and make you money. Sixty percent of what is called cholera in this country is pure starvation. Therefore if well fed, well watered, and given clean quarters, hogs will not get sick, provided

Sowing and Grazing

The following table gives in convenient form the time of planting, rate of seeding and length of time required to produce grazing from the crops recommended.

How to Prepare the Field for Grazing.

The fields for grazing should be made rich and thoroughly prepared or there will be a disappointment. Deep break them in August. If possible follow the same day with the disk and finish with a section harrow. Broadcast two thousand pounds of ground or air duster. Five per acre before using the section harrow. Use 6 to 9 pounds of rape per acre depending on fertility of soil and 10 pounds of clover seed. Use the orange variety of sorghum. Plant in drills three feet apart and sow half bushel of seed per acre.

such crops as will be planted, every farmer in the county should plant to use some of his land for grain and forage crops AND RAISE HOGS. There will be a cash market here in Dothan for all live stock. You can bring hogs, sheep, cows or goats here any month in the year and sell them for cash. If this system is adopted in Houston county it will not only save the farmers from loss on account of the boll weevil, but will in a few years pay off the mortgages on every farm. As an illustration, when the business men of Moultrie decided to build a packing house they sent a committee to investigate the proposition in the north west. Among other places they went to Minnesota. In Albert Lea county they discovered there was not a single farm mortgage in the county. Five years prior to this time there were many. The farmers were following a one crop system—raising wheat. They became interested in raising hogs and after five years every mortgage in the county had been lifted. When the committee from Moultrie looked over the court house records they could not find a single mortgage on record.

We want to do this in Houston and

By using a little judgment, perseverance and industry every farmer in this section can become financially independent. Like the one item of hogs, the packing house will buy these on foot. If every farmer in Houston county will raise twenty five 200 pound hogs next year live weight, it will bring him on the present market—$8.40 per hundred on foot or about 17 1/2 cents green pork—about $4.20. This is just two hogs per month. If he will raise 50 such hogs next year—and there is scarcely a farmer in the county but can do this—it will bring about $810. Think of it. As there are about 4,400 farmers in the county, this would be a total income every year of over three and a half million dollars. This in addition to the regular crops that will be raised. Under such a system of farming debts will soon disappear. Mortgages will go. And the best part about this program there is nothing about it impractical or complicated. On the contrary it is plain, simple, practical. Just the raising of a few hogs by each farmer.

Bear in mind that beginning with September 1st there is going to be a year round market for all live stock here in Dothan. You can sell your stock on the foot any month in the year.

We want to urge upon every farmer to begin to get ready RIGHT NOW. Don't make the serious mistake of waiting another year. Let us begin early this fall so that we will begin to get big results in 1915. It is a matter for the individual farmer. Each must act for himself. It will soon be time to plant the green cover crops. The chamber of commerce will co-operate with the farmers through the best vice presidents. Confer with them at once. If you want to talk with us call at our office in Dothan and the Secretary, Mr. N. F. Cobb, will be glad to see you and give you all the assistance possible. If you write to us address THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, John Sanders, President, N. F. Cobb, Secretary, Dothan, Ala.

THOUGHTS FOR THE DAY.

"Thy love shall chase his own heart tides
After his own self-working child's line
Set on the sighing lips shall make thee glad,
A poor man served by thee shall make thee rich,
A sick man helped by thee shall make thee strong,
Thou shalt be served thyself by every sense
Of service which thou renderest."

A KINGDOM OF MEN.

Here is my kingdom—here within these walls;
Such narrow walls, and yet they bound for me
The whole of the wide world—north and south and east and west—
The highest mountain top and farthest sea
A little kingdom, bounded by four walls,
And yet within this narrow space I see
The tender eyes of him my heart calls king,
A little child who waits beside my knee.

A lowly kingdom, yet 'tis set about with meat and wall and guarded battlement
By whose strong gates the warlike sword keeps watch
Over my little kingdom of Content
What matters, then, the burdens of the day?
Dear Heart, what matters anything to me,
If I can touch your hands at even tide
And hold a little child upon my knee?

THIS picture illustrates the opening step in the so-called 'one step' of the dance. The girl should be held in her arms, and both should stand erect. If there is any man let it toward the girl. The dance is nothing more than a girl walk to the music and must be done in the balls of the feet. If the knees are too far apart, the shoulders and elbows are impossible. The entire movement should be from the hips.

SAVING DISEASE PERILED REFUGEES

Wonderful Work of Quarantine Station in the Mississippi

IS LARGEST IN THE WORLD.

Means by Which It Combats Worst Feared Plagues and Favors Furnish Striking Illustration of the Achievement of Modern Science—Unique Map an Aid to Doctors.

One result of the taking and occupation of the port of Vera Cruz, Mexico, by the American forces has been to draw attention to the fact that the United States has the most complete and largest quarantine station of any country in the world. It is located in the Mississippi river and is known as the New Orleans quarantine station, although it is in fact ninety-one miles below New Orleans. It is described as Wingrove Station in the Washington Star.

Here there is a plant estimated by Surgeon G. M. Cooper, United States public health service, who is in charge, to be worth about $2,000,000.

Over the dock of Surgeon Cooper in the administration building of the station there is a huge map of the world showing every port and into the space indicated by the names of these ports on this great map are stuck pins with colored heads, on each indicating one of the terrible diseases which modern science has been unable to prevent and in many cases to conquer. There is a pin of one color for cholera, another for leprosy, another for plague, another for smallpox, another for typhus fever and still another for yellow fever. The latest Yellow Jack, as it was formerly styled in whippers in and around New Orleans, no longer carries with it the fear of the public health service, the fear its name once aroused, for, as Surgeon Cooper put it, Yellow fever in the temperate zones does not frighten us much.

Why Yellow Fever Kills So Many. "If I can get hold of yellow fever the first day," he said, "I can save all but may never see it in the case of most of the deaths in yellow fever cases. At Vera Cruz, Mexico, several years ago there were at one time 21,000 cases of smallpox out of a population of about 100,000. Deaths were at the rate of 1,000 or 2,000 a day.

In a few months there have been no great outbreaks of this or any other quarantinable disease in these Mexican cities so far as reported, but in these cities there are always sporadic cases. In Vera Cruz, where the record of deaths is kept, the number of deaths were 100,000 in the last year. The Mexican people are more afraid of having such a plague than the American people are of being up with a cold.

The plan of the quarantine station is to keep up to date the list of all ships coming up to the mouth and to keep a record of all ships with any of these quarantinable diseases to keep them out of the country and above all to prevent them from communicating their disease to other passengers on the ship or from taking it into the United States.

Except for the want of something to do to occupy the time the Mississippi river quarantine station is a pleasant enough place at least during the day. At night life is more exciting for there begins a struggle for existence which resolves itself into a battle royal between mosquitoes (which some people say are of the size of canary birds) and human beings which often literally leaves the humans gasping for breath after their exertions.

Mosquito Proof Tents. This mosquito pest has made necessary the building of the quarantine station during the rush of refugees of what are called 'border' proof tents. These tents are completely covered with wire from their wooden floors to their canvas tops. Entrance is through a narrow door. The tents are built in the company streets as at a military encampment and wire has been strung to the end of each street. Each tent is equipped with four cot, wash bowls and pitchers and stools. A family consisting of a mother, father and two of three children is given a tent to itself. If there are four young men, not otherwise attended, they are given a tent to themselves or if there are four unmarried women or girls they are given a tent to themselves. There is a male and a female section. The New Orleans quarantine station was established at its present site by the state of Louisiana in 1854 and is the only one of its kind in the United States.
